

When a Love Can't Be

A love can't be when one of the pair lays on the other condemned despair, A love can't be when the half of the two reckons attraction untrue, A love can't be when the door locked does it not be opened so the love is stopped, A love can't be when the beauty of one appears does it not to the other as a charm, A love can't be when the out and the in dissent by a javelin instead by a pin, A love can't be when both dread promulgation in the face of worrisome rejection, A love can't be when the underlying beauty overturns the overlaying beauty, A love can't be when they turn away the eyes of one to different way, A love can't be when there be nameless face, merely wireless chase.
That is when a love can't be, so in different instance there is loving circumstance.
